Experience

Willis Towers Watson, Thane – Frontend Developer

August 2020 – Present

Worked mainly on Angular for all the projects in an agile environment. For one of the products, I have implemented backend service in Node JS where basically existing python code was to be converted to Angular + Node. For another product, I have designed the entire UI with responsiveness from scratch and developed it. My daily work includes resolving user stories which involves improving and optimizing UI for multiple products.
